R2-Certified Recycling

In 2018, we achieved the coveted R2:2013 certification, the leading certification standard in the recycling industry. That means every component, every cable and every plastic part that isn't reused, is recycled in an environmentally responsible way in United States. Colorado and Minnesota (Doswell) are currently R2 certified.

NAID AAA-Certified Data Destruction

PCs for People is NAID AAA-Certified, which means we adhere to the highest standards of information destruction, hardware sanitization and asset tag removal. Partners receive a report within 10 business days of pickup with audit trail and asset serial number reporting.
