Snow Management, Inc.

February 17, 2017

Mr. Rob Sproule,

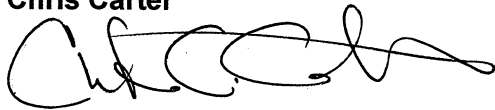

For over 20 years, Everest Snow Management has been a leader in the snow and ice management industry. During that period of time, our company has always been evolving and growing. We started out as a landscape and snow removal provider, then switched and just focused on snow. Our snow only focus has led us to making significant investments in purchasing the best equipment to allow for the quality of service throughout the winter season. Our investments have not only been in equipment, but in the training and overall development of employees throughout the company that supports our efforts year round.

As we move forward with our growth strategy, we are proud to introduce the Everest Management Group! Everest Management Group now has the capability to handle your snow and ice services, landscaping and seal coating needs, all within one company!

You can now receive the same quality of service that you have come to enjoy during the winter season in the summer season as well. Everest Snow Management has made tremendous strides in building our systems and processes and we are excited to bring those same systems and processes once again to landscaping, and also to seal coating.

We are looking forward to working together as Everest Management Group!!
